Downstairs once, please?

No, better not! Our door and stair gate NIC protects your kids from unintentionally falling down the stairs while romping around.

Friends, siblings or cousins romp around the house or flat and shriek until the beams bend, the pictures on the walls shake and grandma reports hearing loss. Sometimes the dog or the house cat also gets involved. All parents know this, don't they? To ensure that neither your offspring nor their furry friends fall down the stairs unintentionally, we recommend: Attach a door and stair gate, for example our NIC. NIC is made of untreated beech wood, a warm material that not only looks good but is equally pleasant to the touch. In addition, the stair gate does not scratch the floor because it swings freely. It fits door widths and stairways between 63 and 103.5 centimetres and is completely assembled in just a few minutes. It's also compactly packaged so you can easily tuck it under your arm.
