

For smaller fires

Extinguishing blanket in a practical carrying bag for extinguishing small fires.

Nip minor grease kitchen fires, for example from deep fryers and grease fryers, in the bud. Because often it happens faster than you think, and a small source of fire has already developed. You can quickly smother smaller fires with our ABUS fire blanket, which can be conveniently stored in a carrying bag to save space. The blanket made of coated glass fibre fabric measures one square metre and is also suitable for use on burning clothing. Please note that the fire blanket can only be used once. After that, it must be replaced.
